

OPERATION OF BELMOND HIRAM BINGHAM DURING RAINY SEASON
(JANUARY TO APRIL 2017)

1st January, 2017 -- During the rainy season, Belmond Hiram Bingham will operate under bimodal system (bus and train) from 2 January to 30 April 2017.

This measure is taken according to safety provision set forth by the railway concessionaire, Ferrocarril Transandino, where during the rainy season train movement is temporarily suspended between Cuzco and Pachar (Ollantaytambo).

The bimodal service will transport passengers in a private bus from the city of Cuzco to the train station located at Belmond Hotel Rio Sagrado. The bus departs from Poroy Station at 08:10 and arrives in Rio Sagrado at 09:40 for the transfer from bus to train.

At the station, passengers will board the train and they will be able to enjoy the customary service on their way to Machu Picchu Town station arriving at 12:24.

For the return journey, passengers will board the train at Machu Picchu Town station at 17:50 and arrives to Belmond Hotel Rio Sagrado at 20:50, and then will continue from there to their hotels in Cuzco by private bus.

Passengers can also embark and disembark at Ollantaytambo station, according to the regular itinerary.

The service will return to its regular itinerary with departures and arrivals at Poroy station in the city of Cuzco on 1 May 2017.
