A LIVING TRADITION

The daily ritual of almsgiving, Tak Bat, is a sacred and symbiotic ceremony that allows devout Buddhists to earn merit by providing the monks with their only meal of the day. For the past 40 years, the family of one of our associates, Madame Lar, has participated in Tak Bat every day. We are honoured to help support her family's ongoing tradition and invite you to witness how locals prepare for this timeless ritual.

Your personalised journey starts in our kitchen garden. Learn how to prepare traditional sticky rice with the help of our culinary team. While the rice cooks, you can enjoy traditional Lao coffee by the fireplace and cultural stories from our resident experts, before heading into the heart of Luang Prabang to meet Madame Lar.

BACI: A CUSTOM OF BLESSING

Engage in a traditional good luck ritual. Baci is a centuries-old ceremony designed to garner good fortune and celebrate life events, such as weddings and births. It also serves as a friendly way to welcome honoured visitors.

The ceremony revolves around a tray of food and objects decorated with banana leaves and flowers representing love and longevity. A respected elder in the community, Master Morphone, welcomes and blesses you, tying white cotton threads around your wrists to symbolise peace, health and prosperity. Afterwards, enjoy some delicious local snacks crafted by our chef.

A full-page photograph of a sunset on the Mekong River. The sun is a bright, glowing orb in the upper center, casting a long, shimmering path of light across the water's surface. The sky is filled with soft, horizontal clouds. In the middle ground, a small, dark boat with a canopy and several windows is positioned on the water. The background features dark, silhouetted mountains under the twilight sky.
